Message from Designated Institutional Official

My heartiest congratulations to all graduands and award recipients! Tonight we celebrate the graduation of SingHealth's fifth cohort of Residents and recognise the achievements of outstanding Clinician Scientist Residents, as well as House Officers in the SingHealth Best Junior Doctors Awards 2019.

Graduands, as you embark on your journey as specialists, always bear in mind to keep patients at the heart of all you do. Being a doctor is a privilege, so we must practise Medicine right. Not only should we uphold the highest standards of honesty, integrity and professionalism in all that we do, we must never forget to keep our patients' interest as our topmost priority.

With the Residency training that you have gone through, I believe that all of you stand in good stead to shape the future of healthcare and effect the changes that can truly improve patients' lives. While your training has equipped you with the core competencies required for practice, I encourage you to embrace lifelong learning and continuously upkeep your knowledge and skills in Medicine. Keep improving yourself to better serve your patients.

Having gone through the "thick and thin" of your training, I am certain many of you have developed strong camaraderie with your peers. Continue to grow those friendships, expand your network and forge stronger ties. Remember that the medical practice is a team game, which requires collaboration with colleagues to achieve the best outcome possible.

I wish you all the best in your future in Medicine!

Warm Regards,
Associate Professor Tan Hak Koon

Message from Valedictorian, SingHealth Residency 2019

To all the graduating Residents of 2019 - guys, we made it. Congratulations on finally finishing Residency!

During my time in Residency, I have come to realise that what we leave behind are what those who follow after will receive. In Emergency Medicine, there are very few constants. Everything is changing, everything is moving on. Amidst the chaos of the emergency department, how do you find your way? Well, you walk in somebody else's footprints until the time you are confident enough to leave your own behind.

As we start out as newly minted Associate Consultants, we are just about ready to start leaving our own footprints in the sand. And whilst we may be the most junior in our departments now, I believe that we can still do something to make the road a little easier for the ones who come after us.

On behalf of all Residents, I'd like to express our deepest gratitude to all Faculty and seniors who gave us tutorials, shared their advice and helped us along our way towards the finishing line.

A huge thank you to all the programme executives, coordinators, GME office and admin staff for putting up with all of us and our antics. Without each and every one of you, I don't think any of us would have our completed Residency training!

I wish my fellow graduands all the best in your careers!

Dr Tess Lin Teo

Physician's Pledge

The Pledge, based on the Hippocratic Oath and on the Declaration of Geneva, was adopted in 1984 by the World Medical Association. It has been drafted to reflect the practice of Medicine today, to remind doctors of their responsibility to their patients and the medical profession.

(Please stand and raise your right hand to affirm the Physician's Pledge)

"I solemnly pledge to:

dedicate my life to the service of humanity;

give due respect and gratitude to my teachers;

practise my profession with conscience and dignity;

make the health of my patient my first consideration;

respect the secrets which are confided in me;

uphold the honour and noble traditions of the medical profession;

respect my colleagues as my professional brothers and sisters;

not allow the consideration of race, religion, nationality or social standing to intervene between my duty and my patient;

maintain due respect for human life;

use my medical knowledge in accordance with the laws of humanity;

comply with the provisions of the Ethical Code; and constantly strive to add to my knowledge and skill.

I make these promises solemnly, freely and upon my honour."
